

INVITATION

Slovak Cancer Research Foundation

in cooperation with Gymnázium Hlinská 29, Žilina

declare on the occasion of Cancer Research Day 2020

Young Oncologists Award for the best scientific work in Cancer Research

In order to highlight the priorities and potential of modern cancer research, Slovak Cancer Research Foundation declared Cancer Research Day - March, 7th with the main message:

Today's Research for Tomorrow's Treatment!

On this occasion we kindly invite students and young scientists to meet and present their knowledge, ideas and results in cancer research.

Competition conditions:

The competition will be held in four categories (High school student, University student, PhD student, Young scientist up to 35 years with PhD degree) and will include presentations in the form of lectures after reviewing the abstracts, electronically sent to the email address prezident@nvr.sk by January 30, 2020. The contributions should meet the following criteria:

- author's age up to 35 years (including)
- the lecture in the field of basic, applied, clinical cancer research, as well as review works
- the abstract length - max. 1 page of A4 format

The submitted abstracts will be reviewed by Scientific Committee consisting of representatives of Slovak Cancer Research Foundation and experts from academic and clinical workplaces. The timeliness of the issue and the contribution to further research will take into account in the selection process. Notification of acceptance or non-acceptance for the competition will be delivered to the authors after the deadline by February 7th, 2020.

Presentation of selected contributions will take place on March 9-10th, 2020.

Competition Place: Gymnázium Hlinská 29, Žilina. Each participant would have 15 minutes for her/his scientific contribution (10 minutes for presentations and 5 minutes for discussion). The processing and presentation form will also be evaluated. In case of a higher number of participants, the Organizing Committee reserves the right to include a contribution in the form of a poster. The Scientific Committee will select three winning awards in each competition category. The authors will be rewarded with financial or material prize.

Ceremonial enunciation of the winners (1st-3rd place in each category) and Award Ceremony will be held on March 10th, 2020 during the Galaconcert on occasion of Cancer Research Day. Awarded contributions will be published on the website of the Slovak Cancer Research Foundation (www.nvr.sk).

Presented contributions in the form of extended abstracts will be published by Slovak Cancer Research Foundation in peer review Proceedings of SMO2020 with ISBN number.
